

Pre-Holiday Classes Scheduled at YWCA

With holiday gift giving, feasting on yuletide delicacies, and decorating the Christmas tree and home in mind, the Torrance YWCA has scheduled a series of Pre-Holiday Classes to open the first weeks in November.

Slated for Saturday afternoon, class hours are from 1:30 until 2:30 p.m.

Information regarding any of these Pre-Holiday classes may be had by contacting the Torrance YWCA, 2360 Carson St.

In the Holiday Craft Workshop, students will have the opportunity of learning to make their home and tree decorations, gift items often made from simple household items such as foil, egg cartons and plastic bottles, earrings made from window screens, decorated mirror plaques and other festive stocking stuffers.

This class, scheduled for two hours over a four-week period, will be held on Friday from 3 to 5 p.m.

A self-improvement class for the holiday parties is also on the slate. Hair care and styling, proper makeup, fashions, proper grooming are just some of the activities on this agenda. Colleen Rudd will be the instructor.

A Holiday Cooking Class is being offered for local pre-teens. Preparation of special foods identified with the holidays, will be taught in this class, including the Christmas Morning Coffee Cake wreath, cookies, cakes, pies and candies. Girls will learn to use the cookie press and decorating devices.

2 Bridal Showers Are Noted

Pamela West of Torrance was guest of honor at two recent bridal showers.

The first was a luncheon given by Mrs. Ludwig Keehn at Mesa Verde Country Club, Costa Mesa. Fifteen guests attended the luncheon shower.

A kitchen shower was also given for Miss West by Mrs. Leslie Richards and Miss Lynn Thiele in Torrance. Those attending included Mmes. Ed Schwartz, Chellie Patterson, Roz Rienertson, Frances Kimberling, Marilyn Keehn, Leah Runyan, Pattie Smith, Rose Winters, Sharon Jones, Walter J. West, and Marge Randell.

Miss West will be married Friday.
